

Am I the only person who has panic attacks?

Absolutely not! According to The National Institute of Mental Health, approximately 6 million Americans are struggling with consistent, intense panic attacks in any one year.